

Brainjogging®

Student spotlight: Grayson Stamm

Grayson Stamm is a fourth grader at Clubview Elementary School in Columbus, GA. He began Brainjogging the first week of September 2010. In only a month and a half, Grayson has made enormous progress.

Grayson's mother, Debbie Jones, was initially concerned with multiplication skills. Grayson was scoring poorly on timed multiplication exercises; he knew the material but couldn't process it quickly enough. Grayson and Columbus instructor Sellers Cook worked almost exclusively on Brainjogging's multiplication memorization tools and Grayson Brainjogged faithfully at home. His timed multiplication exercises immediately began to rise: Grayson went from making low scores to a perfect 100% in a matter of five weeks!

Mrs. Jones reported being "over the moon," and then came Grayson's report card: straight As! Grayson's teacher commented, "Awesome!

Grayson is a great student!" Grayson's progress is due in large part to his mother's dedication: she makes sure Grayson does his Brainjogging twice daily!

Camp Academia, INC. and Brainjogging

November 2010

Special points of interest:

- Welcome, Anna Galloway and Lesia Mikell!
- Please visit our blog.
- We now offer a military discount!
- Camp Academia, INC. now has an office in Charlotte, NC.

Welcome Ms. Galloway and Mrs. Mikell

Anna Galloway graduated from the University of Central Florida with a BA in Communication Disorders, or Speech Pathology. Anna spent a year teaching remedial reading for special education in Troup County public schools and is pursuing a Masters in Communication Disorders at Auburn University.

Lesia Mikell has a degree in Family and Child Development and has taught for nearly 20 years. She has Montessori, first and fourth grade, adult and pre-school experience.

Both women attended Brainjogging's teacher training in June 2010.

Anna and Lesia bring experience and expertise to Brainjogging. We are thankful to have them join our team! They will serve your children well as Brainjogging instructors.

Federal grant to serve low-income students

Camp Academia, INC. is a 2010-2011 Supplemental Educational Services (SES) provider for six Muscogee County public schools. We are serving Brewer, Forrest Road and Fox Elementary Schools and Baker, Eddy and Marshall Middle Schools. ALL students at Brewer and Forrest Road are eligible. Students at Fox, Baker, Eddy and Marshall must receive free and reduced lunch to be eligible for SES.

If you know of an eligible student, please contact Sellers Cook at 706-507-5332 or sellers.cook@brainjogging.com.

Visit our blog! campacademia.com/blog

Brainjoggers are achieving incredible success! We are documenting their triumphs, along with the latest news and research on learning disabilities and any other information we believe relevant to our students and parents. Please share your thoughts about blog posts by using the blog's "comments" option. We intend to create a credible, reliable and personal online community for parents of children with learning disabilities. Please visit our blog at www.campacademia.com/blog/. Access it from our homepage, www.campacademia.com, by clicking the "blog" tab in the top right corner. We are eager to hear your response!

Camp Academia, INC. and Brainjogging

1507 Vernon Road
LaGrange, GA 30240
1022 2nd Avenue
Columbus, GA 31901

LaGrange: 706-884-4492
Columbus: 706-507-5332
-admin@campacademia.com

Visit us online!
campacademia.com

When the pupil is ready, the teacher may teach!

MILITARY DISCOUNT!

Brainjogging is proud to announce a new military discount! Military families of children with learning disabilities will receive a 10% discount on therapy sessions.

We keep growing...

Camp Academia, INC. now has an office in Charlotte, North Carolina, helmed by Mrs. Laura Lynne Frazier.

Mrs. Frazier received her teaching degree from Milligan College, a private liberal arts college in Johnson City, Tennessee in 1988.

Mrs. Frazier has a BA in English and Elementary Education. She has three children, Ian, Collin and Erika, all of whom have been Brainjoggers. Mrs. Frazier has directed children's choirs, worked in Admissions departments at Indiana University and The University of Rochester and began working with Shirley Pennebaker many years ago. She and her husband have both been instructors with Camp Academia, INC. in the past. Thus began her tenure with Brainjogging.

Mrs. Frazier and her family moved to Charlotte in 2001. In 2004, she entered the Charlotte Mecklenburg School system as a substitute for several elementary schools and AG middle school. Mrs.

Frazier is currently a third grade teacher in Charlotte.

She attended Brainjogging's teacher training in June 2010, where she was introduced to the neuroscience behind Brainjogging.

Mrs. Frazier also learned how to treat learning disabilities utilizing Brainjogging. She left with an understanding of the myriad ways in which Brainjogging enables students with learning disabilities to be successful learners.

Mrs. Frazier is excited about the opportunity to help her current and future students who need Brainjogging to succeed!

Mrs. Laura Lynne Frazier is opening a Brainjogging office in Charlotte, North Carolina!

Brainjogging is our patented computer program that uses visual stimuli to enhance learning efficiency through the building and strengthening of synaptic connections.